Innovative Services for Treatment-Resistant Mental Health Conditions

Not all therapies work for all people. Supported by traditional and first-line treatments and therapies, we also provide escalation options for Veterans experiencing chronic and treatment-resistant mental health conditions, where clinically appropriate.

Coordinated Escalation for Treatment- Resistant Conditions

Robust escalation options form an important part of healthcare solutions for complex and treatment resistant conditions. Should first response treatments prove inadequate, treatment plans should incorporate scalable and coordinated escalation options, so no Veteran is left languishing without a clear pathway forward on their healthcare journey.

Innovative Care

While every Veteran has different needs that require uniquely clinically-appropriate care plans, Total Veteran Healthcare is able to provide a suite of escalation healthcare options for our mental health care patients that can include innovative treatments, such as Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation, Medication Assisted Psychotherapy, and Nasal Spray Delivery Therapy. These treatments can be administered from our Brisbane clinic, or via our partner clinics across Australia.

If you have tried two previous treatments for mental health conditions without success, we may provide innovative treatment escalation options, where clinically appropriate.
